

2024 INTAKE CALENDAR

Simplify your students' academic planning for intakes spanning November 2023 to May 2025. Keep this handy calendar to stay on top of application deadlines and essential milestones.

This calendar provides general application timeline as a helpful reference for your convenience. Please note that while we strive to maintain accurate and up-to-date information, different institutions may have varying application deadlines and requirements, and these can change without notice. For precise deadlines, please verify directly on the Adventus.io platform or through your account manager. Early applications are encouraged for direct programs due to limited availability of seats.
